Announcement

I invite all members of the breed to attend this, my first annual sale from the Winmoor herd. I am listing a lot of richly bred, reliable producing breeding stock in order to make this event specially attractive to those in need of breeding stock. I am parting with a large number of reliable producing matrons about 25 of which will have a good calf at side, by herd bulls that are bred for the best of service. There is one distinguishing feature as to the cows at Winmoor and that is that they are good milkers and regular producers. The profitable kind. The heifers are specially pleasing, and the young bulls are very promising material for good stock bulls.

I like these cattle and I believe they will prove very satisfactory to their new owners. I am convinced that the outlook for the breeder of good Short-horns is specially promising and I am sure that those who buy now when values are in their favor, will make an investment which will be eminently satisfactory for years to come. Come and spend a day at Winmoor, whether you want to buy or not. You are welcome.

W. H. Schendorf, Dundee, Ill.

W. H. Schendorf presents in this the first Annual Sale from his noted Winmoor Herd, a class of utility breeding stock that are exceptionally prolific and whose reliability and merit as producers are unique in auction sale offerings. As one studies these matrons, their evidence of being good milkers and the lusty calves with them, he cannot but be impressed with their real desirability and the satisfaction which they will return to those who secure them. Among the heifers, a rare good lot as a whole, are a number that will rank with the tops of the season's sales. The bulls are exceptionally promising herd heading material. These cattle merit the attention of buyers of the best. They are in every way, in pedigree, type, quality and producing worth the kind that will make good. To appreciate them you should see them.—Geo. E. Martin of The Shorthorn World.

Maxwalton Mikado, the champion at the 1925 Central States Fair, has been well up in the shows since a calf. His sire was twice champion at the International and a winter of more championships than any bull of the breed at any time. His dam's sire was a consistent winner. He is an intensely bred "Sultan" and the more his calves are studied the more he must be appreciated as a sire.
